Exeter is home to a range of unique independent and High Street stores. Check out www.visitexeter.com/shopping for inspiration, to help you plan your shopping trip to Exeter!

Day One:

- 09:00 Arrive in Exeter ready to shop til' you drop in the range of unique and High Street stores that the city has to offer. Start off in Gandy Street for a wide selection of independent retailers at your fingertips, perhaps stop off in the popular Chococo for a hot chocolate! Then take a stroll around the Royal Albert Memorial Museum to browse the large selection of hand-picked gifts, crafts and books, directly inspired by RAMM's collections and exhibitions - the perfect place to find a unique gift from Exeter!
- 12:30 Time to refuel! The nearby Guildhall Shopping Centre offers a range of cuisines from around the world. Travel to the Caribbean at Turtle Bay, enjoy pizzas on the rooftop of Ludo Sports & Live Lounge or try Vietnamese delicacies at Pho! There's something for everyone to try. If you fancy something more traditional, head to Eat on the Green for a delicious afternoon tea whilst taking in the view of the magnificent Exeter Cathedral.
- 14:30 Spend the rest of your day exploring the Guildhall Shopping Centre and Princesshay Shopping Centre – you'll be spoilt for choice with an extensive range of well-known brands.
- 18:00 As the shops start to shut, it's time to wind down from your busy day. Choose one of Exeter's independent restaurants for the finest Devon ingredients on the menu, such as Harry's Restaurant in the city centre, or Crave on Exeter Quayside.

Day Two:

- 09:00 After a scrumptious breakfast at your hotel in the city centre, walk down to explore the antique and craft stores on Exeter's Quayside. The perfect place if you're looking for a unique gift that you can only purchase in Exeter! Stop for a coffee break at one of the independent riverside cafes here.
- 12:00 You'll be spoilt for choice of restaurants for lunch - Exeter Quayside is home to some well-renowned restaurants, such as Crave and Rockfish.
- 14:00 Catch a bus or a train and spend the rest of the afternoon in Topsham, a beautiful town thriving with independent galleries, antiques and jewellery stores. Shop until your heart's content and purchase award-winning local produce such as cheese, meat and wine to take home with you!
- 16:00 Return to Exeter, and don't miss a visit to Magdalen Road before you leave. This is Exeter's village street in the heart of the city, named one of the '10 coolest shopping areas in the whole world' by The Guardian! You'll find some real local gems here, with locally sourced fresh food including the best traditionally-made cheeses.
