Morning:

Begin at the Royal Albert Memorial Museum & Art Gallery (RAMM), where world-class collections bring Exeter, Devon, and cultures from across the globe vividly to life. Leave time for coffee in the café and a browse in the museum shop before exploring Exeter's independent shopping scene, with distinctive boutiques, makers and tempting local finds tucked away around the city centre. Colourful Gandy Street makes for a perfect group photo spot on your tour around Exeter.

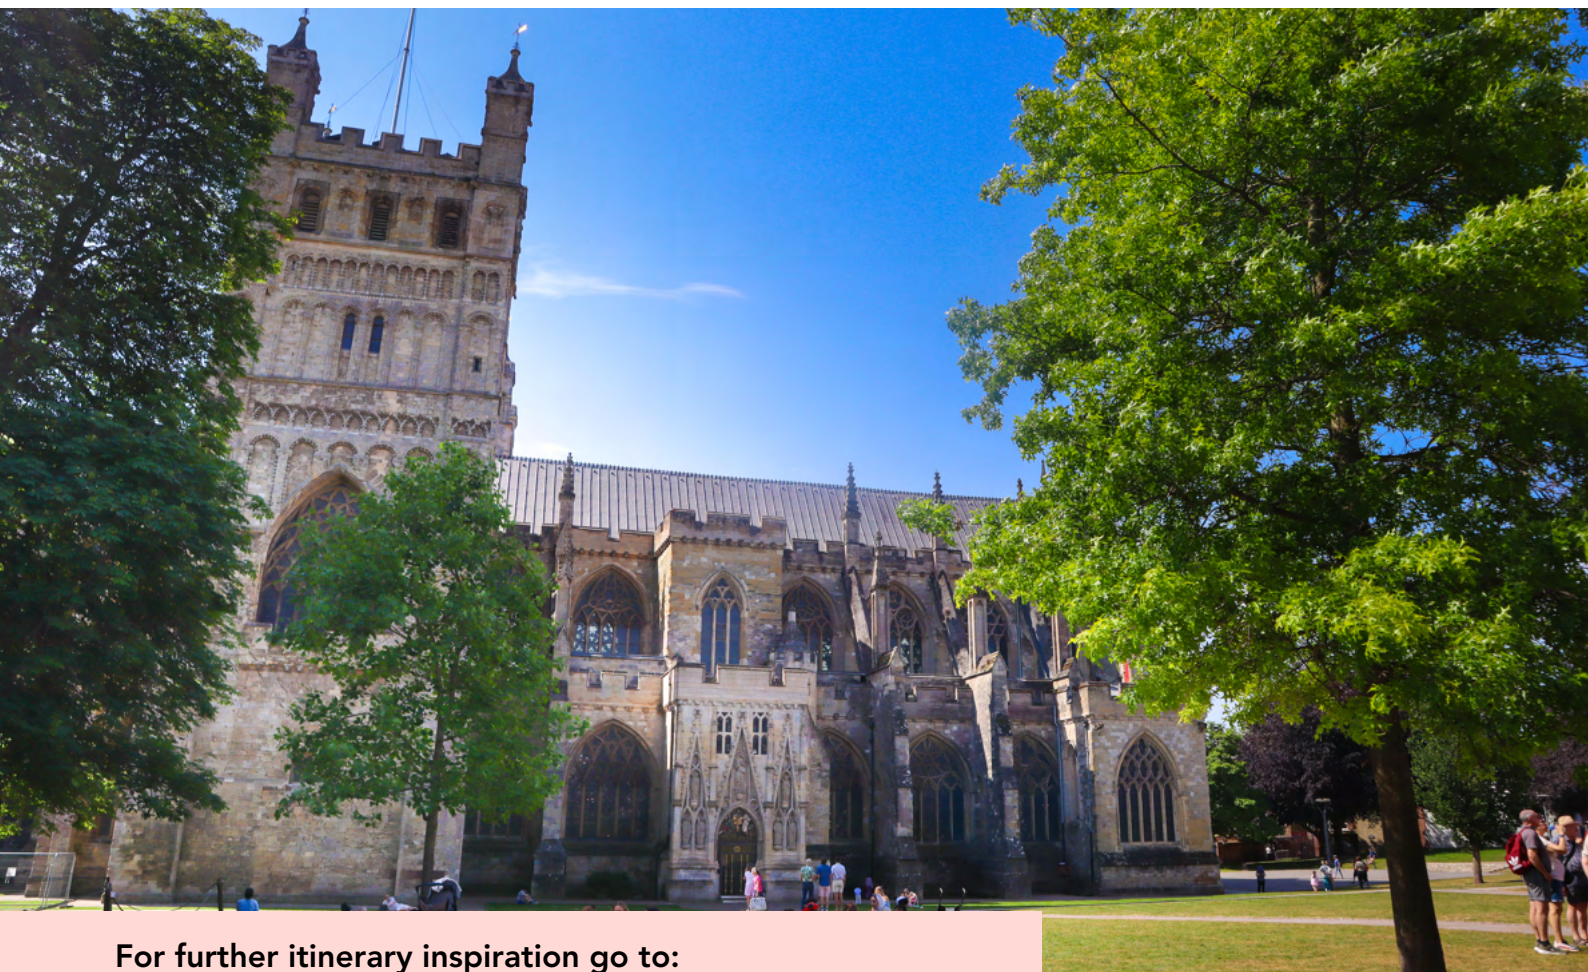

Then head beneath the streets on a pre-booked tour of Exeter's medieval Underground Passages, the only attraction of its kind open to the public in Britain. Afterwards, take a short walk to the magnificent Exeter Cathedral. Step inside to admire more than 900 years of history, the astronomical clock, and the extraordinary sweep of Gothic vaulting overhead.

Afternoon:

Pause for lunch and taste your way around Exeter's vibrant food scene, from relaxed cafés and characterful pubs to restaurants serving Devon produce and flavours from around the world. Afterwards, join one of Exeter's knowledgeable Red Coat Guided Tours for a memorable walk through 2,000 years of stories, hidden corners, and striking architecture. Group tours can be arranged in advance to suit your schedule.

Continue to Exeter's historic Quayside. Browse the independent shops set within atmospheric old cellars, take in the waterside views, and visit the Custom House, built in 1680 at the height of Exeter's woollen-cloth trade.

Round off the day with dinner beside the river or return to the city centre for an evening meal. Whether your group prefers a relaxed bite, modern dining or a hearty local favourite, Exeter offers plenty of inviting places to eat, drink and share the highlights of the day.
